

AI Agent Notes

RAG means Retrieval-Augmented Generation. It retrieves external documents before answering.

RAG has offline indexing and online question answering stages.

ReAct is an agent reasoning pattern that alternates Thought, Action, and Observation.

Action is the concrete tool call or operation selected by the model.

Observation is the real result returned after the tool executes.

The model should use Observation to decide the next step or produce the final answer.